Our Program Director Amy Lahmers will be communicating this change to the HR staff in departments where the students are working so that they can implement this change effective August 17, 2015.

Upcoming Events

Effective Grant Writing for Postdocs, June 12th

Effective Grant Writing for Postdocs
Friday, June 12, 2015 | 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Postdoctoral Advisory Council and BioScience Writers will host a grant writing workshop for postdoctoral scientists at Ohio State. The full-day workshop will focus on the fundamentals of crafting a compelling, competitive fellowship grant. Participants will learn the Preliminary Steps to Writing a Proposal (i.e. creating a timeline for deliverables), Steps to Design Clear Scientific Aims and Hypotheses, Writing a Compelling Training Plan, and more. Far from a lecture, this workshop will include hands-on writing exercises and feedback from BioScience Writers and your peers. Because of the hands-on nature of this workshop, participants will need to come prepared with the beginning stages of a fellowship application in order to use the skills learned to modify their application throughout the workshop. Although core content will focus on NIH award mechanisms, writing exercises and advice will be applicable to those targeting NSF and other fellowship applications as well.

For the workshop application, please contact Lauren Graham at BSGP@osumc.edu.

Yoga for Life - Four Day Yoga and Wellness Workshop Series

The Yoga for Life workshop series will take place at the Ohio State University Biomedical Tower-New James Conference Room (B050) over four days: June 2, 4, 9, and 11, 2015 from 5:00­6:30 p.m. Please see attached flyer for further information.
