Biomedical Sciences News and Events

Upcoming Dissertation Defense: Jill A. Green

Who: Jill A. Green
Mentor: Dr. Kirk Mykytyn
Date: November 16, 2012
Time: 10:00 AM
Location: BRT 105
Topic: Characterization of Neuronal Primary Cilia in Cellular Homeostasis and Disease

See her dissertation defense booklet here.

Graduate School News and Events

Graduate Advising Best Practices Added to Grad. School Handbook

Good graduate advising is a critical part of each graduate student's
New Language in Graduate School Handbook: Dissertation/Candidacy

In response to discussions with Graduate Studies Committee Chairs, the Graduate School has revised their handbook concerning Dissertation requirements including the dissertation defense drafts and draft approvals. They have also made some clarifications regarding Candidacy Exams. Read more here.

Other News and Events

Course Offering: Fundamentals of Oncology

Attached here is the syllabus for the course Pathology/Veterinary Biosciences 6640 “Fundamentals of Oncology”, which will be given during Spring Semester of 2013.

OSU vs. Michigan Blood Battle

For more than 30 years strong, students and fans of Ohio State University and the University of Michigan have taken their battle off the field to help save lives through their annual Blood Battle. This year is no exception.

From November 1 through 20, the archrivals will partner with the American Red Cross to see which university’s supporters can bring in the most blood donations. Blood Battle has highlighted the first weeks of November leading up to the day the schools face off on the football field every year since 1981. Michigan has won the Blood Battle the last four years so help OSU win this year!

Read more about the Blood Battle here and find campus blood drives here.

Opportunities

Grant Writing: An Introduction November 14

There will be an interactive workshop on grant writing on Wednesday (11/14) from 10 a.m.-noon in 170 DHLRI. The workshop will address some of the similarities and differences between the funding process from federal/state agencies and private foundations. It will talk about the best practices for seeking funding, including the SPIN Funding Opportunities system and other resources. Presenters include Dinessa Solomon, director, Foundation Relations, and Jeff Agnoli, Office of Research. Register here.
Annual Hayes Graduate Research Forum: Call for Abstracts & Posters

Students enrolled in any area of graduate study at The Ohio State University are invited to participate in the Annual Hayes Graduate Research Forum. For more information visit the website here. The deadline is to submit is November 30, 2012 and the Forum will be held on March 1, 2013.

If you have any questions regarding submissions, judging or the Hayes Forum in general, please contact the CGS Vice President, Allie Sturm by E-mail at sturm.42@osu.edu or by phone at 201-675-2800.

Submit Your Proposal To Present At Innovate

Innovate is Ohio State's annual conference featuring the best uses of technology in teaching and learning at universities and colleges across the Midwest. This year's theme, engage, highlights technology's ability to connect with students, bring scholarship to global audiences, and build bridges across our communities. The Innovate conference features breakout and poster sessions, vendor booths, the Steal My Idea showcase, and a new Half-Day Hands-On program on Wednesday, March 27, giving participants the ability to try the technologies they learn about on Tuesday, March 26.

Call for Proposals

Interested in sharing your techniques for teaching, research and outreach with technology? We need your presentation proposals to help make Innovate a success! Submit your proposal by 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, December 1 at at elearning.osu.edu. To learn more about session types and proposal requirements, check the new Innovate website at at elearning.osu.edu or e-mail Stephen Lieb at lieb.21@osu.edu.

Career Development

The Graduate school has put together a list of resources that may help students with career development. See the list here.

Fun Fact

Veterans Day Facts

In 1968, the Uniform Holidays Bill was passed by Congress, which moved the celebration of Veterans Day to the fourth Monday in October. The law went into effect in 1971, but in 1975 President Ford returned Veterans Day to November 11, due to the important historical significance of the date. Read more here.