

Combined Internal Medicine-Pediatrics Residents PGY4

Phil Chang, MD

Contact: Philip.Chang@osumc.edu

Hometown: Cupertino, CA

Undergrad: UC San Diego

Medical School: University of Illinois, Peoria

Why OSU/NCH for residency: Loved the people here!

There were so many wonderful residents that I met visiting and also such a strong med/peds contingent of attendings on both sides. A balanced training program between both medicine and pediatrics, and a large and supportive med/peds family!

Career Plans and Interests: Med/peds primary care and medicine hospitalist work, while working in medical education

Hobbies: Tennis, playing piano, trying new beers/breweries

Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: At OSU: Gen Med 1 and 8! One Intern/One Senior, great teaching, and great opportunities to teach med students. At NCH: PICU! Rewarding to see tough kiddos fight on, good teaching, and collaborative team

Why choose Columbus? It has a small town feel in a big city. I like that people still say hello to you walking down the street, but there are still so many options to eat, drink, and play!

Anyelika Delerme, MD

Contact: Ana.Delerme@osumc.edu

Hometown: Pittsburgh, PA

Undergrad: (THE) Penn State University

Medical School: Medical College of Wisconsin (Milwaukee)

Why OSU/NCH for residency: This program felt like home to me. It's a very close-knit, relaxed, family-like atmosphere. Tie that with training in two incredible hospital systems in a city with an unbelievable number of Med-Peds trained physicians. I mean, does it get any better?

Career Plans and Interests: Med-Peds Hospitalist

Hobbies: Cooking and experimenting in the kitchen, traveling to visit friends and family, watching documentaries, playing with my cute lab pup

Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: At OSU? MICU and Gen Med At NCH? Heme/onc and pulmonary

Why choose Columbus? I'm a pretty big fan of the young professional, city feel that embraces diversity. My favorite thing to do- explore restaurants, Pride and the zoo!

Combined Internal Medicine-Pediatrics Residents PGY4

Michelle Gillespie, MD

Contact: Michelle.Gillespie@osumc.edu

Hometown: Needham, MA

Undergrad: William and Mary

Medical School: University of Massachusetts Medical School

Why OSU/NCH for residency: It felt like home! I loved my interview here because I could really see myself fitting in with the group and being friends with a lot of the residents, and now they have become like family. There are two big, busy, really well run hospitals with lots of great mentors and attendings interested in teaching, and tons of Med/Peds faculty. Columbus is an awesome, affordable city with a lot of really fun things to do! I could not be happier with my choice for residency!!!

Career Plans and Interests: Combined adult pulmonary/critical care and peds pulmonary

Hobbies: Soccer, running, baking, needlepointing, wearing adult sized onesies, using tiny spoons to eat ice cream, reading

Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: The MICU at OSU! Cardiology clinic at NCH was also pretty awesome!

Why choose Columbus? My friends live here :) Also FOOD - Northstar for breakfast and salads, Stauf's for tea/scones, Cambridge tea house for fancy tea, Block's for bagels, Katzinger's for latkes, Condados for tacos, Bangkok for thai food, Johnson's for ice cream. If you need more recs, just ask me!

Robbi Gomez, MD

Contact: Roberta.Gomez@osumc.edu

Hometown: Rockaway, NJ

Undergrad: Cornell University

Medical School: Emory University

Why OSU/NCH for residency: OSU/NCH first stood out to me because of the opportunity it would give me to train at an institution with strong training on both the IM and pediatrics sides! I would get to rotate through a large cancer center, a heart hospital, a community-like setting at OSU East's location, and a large, free-standing children's hospital. Then, after my interview day I was blown away by how tight-knit and friendly all of the residents and staff were, and I knew this program would be the best fit for me!

Career Plans and Interests: Benign heme (with a focus on transitional care for sickle cell disease)

Hobbies: Listening to new music, playing the piano, going on hikes with my dog

Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: MICU days

Why choose Columbus? The breweries and restaurants!

Combined Internal Medicine-Pediatrics Residents PGY4

Audrey Hiltunen, MD

Contact: Audrey.Hiltunen@osumc.edu

Hometown: Indianapolis, IN

Undergrad: Indiana University

Medical School: Medical College of Wisconsin

Why OSU/NCH for residency: The most important reason was the people--the residency felt like a family on my interview day and I loved it! I was also looking for a program with a large free standing children's hospital and a strong medicine program. I was also looking for a city where my non-medicine partner could easily find a job and Columbus was a great choice for us!

Career Plans and Interests: Academic Med/Peds, Medical Education, Med/Peds Palliative Medicine, physician-patient communication, and narrative medicine.

Hobbies: Traveling (prior to COVID), kayaking, exploring the many metro parks with my husband and dog, and searching for the best (now to-go) cocktail in Columbus!

Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: Palliative Medicine elective at OSU, Transition Block, Senior Ambulatory Block, PICU, MICU, Nephrology elective.

Why choose Columbus? All of the parks so close to downtown, the food and brewery/craft cocktail scene, great food offerings, and spending time with our Med/Peds family! Columbus has so much to offer and it has big city feels without the traffic!

Austin Meyer, MD, MS, PhD, MPH

Contact: Austin.Meyer@osumc.edu

Hometown: Austin, TX

Undergrad: Texas Tech University

Medical School: Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center

Why OSU/NCH for residency: I wanted to be at a large Med/Peds program with a stand alone children's hospital in a medium-to-large city that was affiliated with an undergraduate institution. After interviewing, I was also impressed by the huge number of Med/Peds physicians and specialties covered between the two institutions as well as the size and variety of the city of Columbus.

Career Plans and Interests: Infectious Disease either in a combined Med/Peds or IM-only program. I plan to practice as a physician-scientist at an academic medical center and be involved in global health programs.

Hobbies: Reading about epidemics/data science/global health, visiting coffee shops and exploring coffee, paddle boarding, running, rescue dogs

Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: ID consults and International Health

Combined Internal Medicine-Pediatrics Residents PGY4

	Why choose Columbus? The summer/fall weather, North Market, Worthington Farmers Market, COSI, German Village, Hocking Hills, Columbus Metro Parks.
	Michelle Moore Padilla, MD Contact: Michelle.Moorepadilla@osumc.edu Hometown: Miami, FL Undergrad: Miami Dade College --> Barry University Medical School: Florida International University Why OSU/NCH for residency: Robust Adult Congenital Cardiology Program. I was impressed with the teaching service structure on wards when I was here for an away rotation as an M4. I knew I would get quality training here. Career Plans and Interests: Congenital cardiology with an emphasis on ACHD. Hobbies: Hiking, apple picking, and checking out the summer festivals. I'm a big time foodie so checking out ethnic foods in Columbus. Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: CHF at OSU. Adult congenital cardiology and Pediatric cardiology clinics at NCH. Why choose Columbus? Lots of places to go on a hike within a reasonable driving distance. Also... Saraga International market!
	Nate Sherrer, MD Contact: Nathaniel.Sherrer@osumc.edu Hometown: Dothan, AL Undergrad: Samford University Medical School: University of Alabama at Birmingham Why OSU/NCH for residency: Amazing program directors and attendings, loved the residents, 2 large academic multidisciplinary hospitals, combined clinic with supportive staff, and opportunities for all research interests and fellowship exploration Career Plans and Interests: I am interested in Primary Care, preventive medicine, and preventative cardiac care Hobbies: Baking bread, hiking, and playing any and all sports Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: MICU Why choose Columbus? The people and the summer weather! It's not hot for nearly as long.

Combined Internal Medicine-Pediatrics Residents PGY4

Brynne Underwood, MD

Contact: Brynne.Underwood@osumc.edu

Hometown: Union, KY

Undergrad: Indiana University Bloomington

Medical School: University of Louisville

Why OSU/NCH for residency: Everyone just seemed so happy and relaxed. Even after interviewing across the country, I truly felt like I found my people here and that training would be unmatched elsewhere with such strong internal medicine and pediatric programs.

Career Plans and Interests: Allergy and Immunology - specific interests include both provider and patient education on common AI topics such as drug allergy, food allergy, and immunodeficiency syndromes.

Hobbies: Skydiving, hiking, snorkeling, surfing, kayaking, paddleboarding, and traveling - the list is infinite really :)

Favorite OSU or NCH rotation: Any time spent at our Med-Peds South High clinic! As someone who initially saw themselves pursuing inpatient medicine and now can't imagine NOT working in a clinic, being at South High allowed me to gain continuity not only with patients (which is simply the best) but also with our wonderful clinic staff!

Why choose Columbus? The metroparks - great running trails and dog parks for my dog and I to enjoy together as well as lakes and reservoirs perfect for some easy day kayaking or SUPing!