Arthur R. James, MD, FACOG

Member, Franklin County Board of Health
Senior Consultant to First Year Cleveland
Evaluator, Indianapolis Health Start Program

Dr. Arthur R. James is an Obstetrician, Gynecologist, and Pediatrician who has been involved in the care to underserved populations for the entirety of his medical career. In previous practices he has been:

- Medical Director of a Neighborhood Health Center (FQHC-site),
- Kalamazoo County Family Health Center, Kalamazoo, Michigan (1993-1995)
- Care Alliance Health Center, Cleveland, Ohio (11/2018-3/2019)
- Medical Director of Bronson Methodist Hospital's Women's Care Clinic, and
- Founding/Medical Director of Borgess Medical Center's Women's Health office.
- In each of these efforts, he has been instrumental in expanding services to indigent patients, patients using drugs, HIV positive pregnant patients, and to teens.
- He is also the founder and former Medical Director of the Kalamazoo County Fetal and Infant Mortality Review team and, for many years, led the Kalamazoo County community's efforts to reduce infant mortality and reduce the incidence of teen pregnancy.
- In 1990 the Kalamazoo Public School System named its school-based teen pregnancy clinic in his name.
- From 2011-2017 he was an Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and Pediatrics at the Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center and Nationwide Children's Hospital. During this time he was also
 - Former Co-Director of the Ohio Better Birth Outcome
 - Former Co-Chair of the Ohio Collaborative to Prevent Infant Mortality
 - Former Senior Policy Advisor to the Ohio Department of Health (2011-2016)
- From 2017-2018 he was the Executive Director of the Ohio State University's Kirwan Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnicity.
- He is a former member of the Health and Human Services Secretary's Advisory Committee on Infant Mortality,
- Former member of the Board of Directors for the National Healthy Start Association,
- Former board member of the Centering Healthcare Institute, Inc.

He is also the former co-chair for the Center for Disease Control and March of Dimes Health Equity workgroup, and is a current member of the Franklin County Board of Health, Senior Consultant to First year Cleveland, and Evaluator of the Indianapolis Health Start Program.

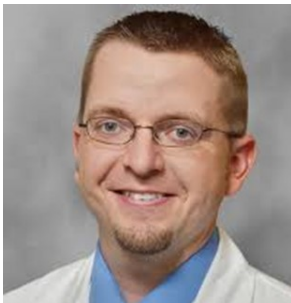

Dr. James has received numerous teaching awards and several local and national awards for his advocacy to achieve equity in birth outcomes. He is also a frequent national speaker on infant mortality, especially regarding the national racial disparity in birth outcomes.
