2014 DAVID R. KELLY, M.D., LECTURER IN MEDICAL ECONOMICS

E. Gordon Gee

The Department of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery is pleased to welcome Dr. E. Gordon Gee, president of West Virginia University and president emeritus of The Ohio State University, as the 10th David R. Kelly, MD, Lecturer in Medical Economics. Dr. Gee has served in higher education for more than three decades and in 2009 was named by Time magazine as one of the top-10 university presidents in the United States. Earning an honors degree in history from the University of Utah, Gee went on to earn his J.D. and Ed.D. degrees from Columbia University. He clerked under Chief Justice David T. Lewis of the U.S. 10th Circuit Court of Appeals before being named a judicial fellow and staff assistant to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Dr. Gee has been a member of several education-governance organizations and committees, including the Big Ten Conference Council of Presidents, the Inter-University Council of Ohio, the Business-Higher Education Forum, and the American Association of Universities. He was chair of the American Council on Education's Commission on Higher Education Attainment and served as co-chair of the Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities' Energy Advisory Committee. In 2009, Gee was invited to join the International Advisory Board of King Abdulaziz University in Saudi Arabia.

Active in a number of national professional and service organizations during his tenures, he has served on the boards for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum, Inc., Limited Brands, and the National 4-H Council. In 2011-2012, he was asked by Governor Kasich to chair both the Ohio Higher Education Capital Funding Collaborative and the Ohio Higher Education Funding Commission. And in December 2012, he was asked to serve on the Columbus Education Commission.

2014 SPECIAL GUEST SPEAKER

Thad Matta

As a Buckeye, Matta has more wins than any previous Ohio State head coach after 10 seasons on the job with a 275-83 record to date. In 14 years as a collegiate head coach, Matta has produced 20 or more victories each year which includes three years at Xavier (78-23) and one at Butler (24-8). His average record as a head coach after 10 seasons (275-83) in Columbus is 28-8. Matta is one of just two coaches nationally to post 20 or more wins in each of his first 14 seasons as a head coach.

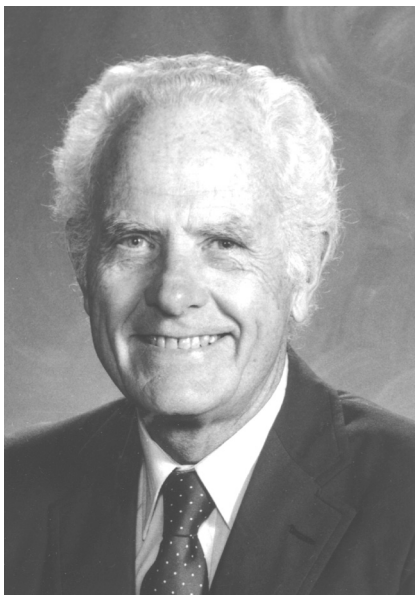

A high school basketball standout at Hoopston-East Lynn in Hoopston, Ill., Matta was a two-year starter for the Butler Bulldogs in three seasons after transferring from Southern Illinois as a sophomore. He earned a B.S. degree in Education from Butler in 1990.

In total, Matta spent six seasons as a full-time assistant coach at three universities, helping his squads compile a composite 128-58 (.688) record and make six postseason tournament appearances.

He was in the NCAA tournament five times as an assistant under four head coaches and in the postseason NIT once. He established himself as one of the nation's best young coaching prospects during a six-year assistant coaching stint.

Over the last five years at Ohio State, Matta's teams advanced to a second appearance in the Final Four (2012), made an unmatched four-consecutive appearances in the NCAA tournament "Sweet 16" from 2010-13, own three Big Ten regular-season crowns and appeared in four Big Ten tournament title games.

WILLIAM H. SAUNDERS, MD

William H. Saunders, MD, Professor, has been a member of the Department of Otolaryngology since 1954. He was Acting Chairman from 1961-1963, and Chairman from 1963-1984. He and his wife, Putzi, have accomplished much.

Dr. Saunders holds society memberships in The American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, the American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological Society, and the American Laryngological Society, among others. He has served as President of the American Board of Triological Society, and past Vice President of the American Board of Otolaryngology and American Laryngological Association.

Dr. Saunders has authored over 80 peer-reviewed journal publications, and has authored or edited five medical textbooks.

ABOUT THE COURSE

The conference is named in honor of William H. Saunders, MD, in recognition and gratitude of his numerous contributions to the discipline of Otolaryngology and the department at The Ohio State University. The William H. Saunders Lectureship Award recipients are internationally renowned for their accomplishments in patient care, research, and education in Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery. The program is designed to highlight both clinical and research activities of the faculty, residents and alumni of the Department of Otolaryngology at The Ohio State University.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this activity, learners will be able to:

- Predict the trends and challenges facing future medical students and physicians
- Explain the important characteristics of an ideal screening exam for acute bacterial sinusitis
- Describe the use of zebrafish in drug development for hearing loss
- Discuss different dosing patterns and techniques for laryngeal botox in the setting of adductor/abductor spasmodic dysphonia and essential laryngeal tremor
- Identify best options to avoid complications in management of the primary and recurrent plunging ranula
- Explain new options in Simulation for resident education, including for high acuity but infrequent clinical problems
- Discuss current use of narcotics in post-operative pain and alternatives consistent with current American Academy of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery recommendations
- Predict post treatment functional outcomes based on pretreatment level of oral cavity function
