FAME: Your Career, Our Guidance

FAME Early Career Achievement Award

The Center for FAME annually grants on a competitive basis, up to two awards for faculty members who demonstrate significant achievements that are attributable to participating in faculty development programming, directly put on by, or sponsored by, the Center for Faculty Advancement, Mentoring and Engagement. All Assistant Professors with a primary appointment in the College of Medicine, who meet the below criteria, are eligible to nominate themselves for this award.

The honoree(s) are awarded with a $2000 honorarium.

The complete criteria for this award are as follows:

1. A primary faculty appointment in the College of Medicine at the rank of Assistant Professor
2. Participation in FAME programming, and/or FAME-sponsored programming, at any point in time
3. An achievement or accomplishment that was made possible, in whole or in part, through faculty development. Such achievements may be attributable to personal or professional growth, discrete skill development or maturation.

Self-nomination materials to be included:

1. A statement that contains the following information and is limited to no more than 2 pages:
 - a. Description of how program(s) attended benefitted your career, and led to an impactful achievement or achievements that may otherwise have been unattainable
 - b. List of FAME program(s) and other faculty development programming attended
2. Current CV
3. A support letter from your Division head or department chair (optional, though highly recommended)
4. Nominations are due to the Center for Faculty Advancement, Mentoring and Engagement Office (FAME@osumc.edu) by: May 31
5. Questions may be directed to the FAME office at FAME@osumc.edu or 685-4536.

Evaluation and Notification:

1. All nominations will be evaluated by the FAME Executive Committee.
2. The committee will assess the nominations on the basis of faculty attendance at FAME events and the impact of the programming on the nominee's career, especially how faculty development has impacted the nominee's ability to perform and excel relative to his or her career path.
3. The awardee will be notified by July 1
