

Section 2: Administration

The deans, department chairs, and leaders of the Ohio State University College of Medicine – headed by and following the example of Dean Carol R. Bradford, MD, MS, FACS – strive to transform patient care, drive innovation, and empower future leaders.

The structure and background of the College of Medicine’s executive leaders, the deans of diversity, equity, and inclusion, the associate deans and leaders of education, faculty affairs, and research, and the department chairs can be found here.