The faculty members honored with the Courage to Teach designation are faculty committed to the humanistic teaching of the medical school curriculum. They love to teach and they enjoy working with emerging physicians.

Can you identify the Courage to Teach faculty member from the description on the following slides?
He wanted to be a physician since junior high school.

He is a gifted teacher that enjoys teaching students and residents in the lecture hall and at the hospital bedside.

He enjoys music and theatre and actually wrote a musical in medical school.

He is married with two children. Alison is 14 years old and Noah is 12.

Keep reading to find out who has the “Courage to Teach” …
His passion for teaching and for his specialty makes him sought after by students and residents as both a teacher and a role model for humanistic medicine.

He has had numerous publications and presentations on women’s health issues.

He was honored for his teaching during residency and has received the CREOG Teaching Award from the OSU COM.

Keep reading to find out who has the “Courage to Teach” ...