The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center
Center for Bioethics and Medical Humanities 2nd Annual OSU Medical Ethics Conference:
Faith, Culture and Modern Medicine: Implications for Medical Ethics and Physician Practice

Conference Agenda

Day 1 of 2
Thursday, September 15, 2016
(Breaks with light refreshments in the Ross Heart Hospital auditorium lobby will be offered between each session)

7:00 am – 8:00 am
Hagop S. Mekhjian Grand Rounds Lecture
Farr Curlin, MD, Duke University
“What does religion have to do with medicine?”

9:00 am – 9:30 am
Welcome & Introductory Session:
by Ryan Nash, MD, MA, The Ohio State University

9:30 am – 10:30 am
Chauncey Leake Lecture
Rabbi Samuel E. Karff, DHL, Rabbi Emeritus of Congregation Beth Israel, University of Texas Medical School and Rice University
“The Re-emergence of the Healer in an Age of High-Tech Medicine”

10:30 am – 11:30 am
Case presentation # 1
Mary Lynn Dell, MD, The Ohio State University
Topic: Faith and Psychiatry

11:30 am – 12:30 pm
Luncheon – food will be arranged in the lobby of the Ross Heart Hospital auditorium

12:30 pm – 2:00 pm
Tristram H. Engelhardt Award Lecture
Corinna Delkeskamp-Hayes, Director of European Programs, International Studies in Philosophy and Medicine “‘Foundations’ of Bioethics? How they float on a moral choice

2:00 pm – 3:00 pm
Case Presentation # 2
Robert Taylor, MD, Asma Mobin-Uddin, MD, Ryan Nash, MD, The Ohio State University and Farr Curlin, MD, Duke University
Topic: Belief and End of Life Care
3:00 pm – 4:30 pm
Legal Updates
Leonard J. Nelson III, JD, LLM, Cumberland School of Law, Samford University, Birmingham, AL
“Legal Protection of Institutional Conscience: Abortion and PAS in Catholic Hospitals”

Day 2 of 2
Friday, September 16, 2016
(Breaks with light refreshments in the Ross Heart Hospital auditorium lobby will be offered between each session)

8:00 am – 8:30 am
Light refreshments

8:30 am – 10:00 am
Disaster Ethics
Dónal O’Mathúna, PhD, Dublin City University, Ireland
Topic: Faith and Culture in Disasters

10:00 am – 11:30 am
Farr Curlin, MD, Duke University
“How religious faith and practice matter for clinical ethics”

11:30 am – 12:30 pm
Luncheon - food will be arranged in the lobby of the Ross Heart Hospital auditorium

12:30 pm – 1:30 pm
Case Presentation # 3
Ashley Fernandes, MD, PhD and Sheria Wilson, MD
The Ohio State University
“Perinatal Ethics: The Case of Baby Thomas”

1:30 pm – 2:00 pm
Leake Student Essay winner presentation to be announced

2:00 pm – 3:15 pm
Darrell M. Gray II, MD, MPH
Topic: culture faith and health disparities

3:15 pm – 3:30 pm
Ryan Nash, MD, MA, Summation and Closing Remarks